Announcement.

I feel so friendly to all that I have no wish to steal from any. My great desire is: That my Drugs shall restore health to your bodies. My Books, Magazines and Papers enrich your minds and make pure your hearts. My Wall Paper, Pictures, Frames, Vases, Statuary, &c., adorn your homes within. My Paints and Oils make them beautiful and enduring without. That no teeth shall ache through eating my Candies. That no boys shall learn to smoke because I sell good Cigars. No little fingers shall bleed because I keep keen Cutlery. That my Gold Rings may rob the finger of scorn of its venom, and the stiff-necked and rebellious become otherwise, as they are adorned with my Jewelry. That the Pocket Books I sell shall always be full. That my Gold Pens write only the loveliest of letters. That the Spectacles and Eye Glasses I sell may enable you all to see so correctly the blessings that surround you, that the underbrush of trouble shall be choked out. And that when I come to balance up for the year, I may find that if there should be a rainy day, I have got a little laid up for it.

The most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Also excellent for human flesh. READ PROOF BELOW.

From a Prominent Physician.

Washingtonville, Ohio, June 17th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents: Reading your advertisement in Turf, Field and Farm, of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and having a valuable and speedy horse which had been lame from spavin eighteen months, I sent to you for a bottle by express, which in six weeks removed all lameness and enlargement and a large splint from another horse, and both horses are to day as sound as colts. The one bottle was worth to me one hundred dollars. Respectfully yours,
H. A. BERTOLETT, M. D.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE ON HUMAN FLESH.

Bakersfield, Vt., Dec. 23, 1879.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents: I wish to add my testimony in favor of your invaluable liniment, "Kendall's Spavin Cure." In the spring of 1862 I slipped on the ice and sprained my right limb at the knee joint. I was very lame and at times suffered the most excruciating pain. I wore a bandage on it for over a year, and tried most everything in my reach, but could find nothing that would give me permanent relief. When I overworked, it would pain me very much. In April, 1878, I began to think I should be a cripple for life; but having some of "Kendall's Spavin Cure" thought I would try it. I used one-third of a bottle and experienced relief at once. The pain left me and has not troubled me since. I feel very grateful to you and would recommend "Kendall's Spavin Cure" to all who suffer with sprains or rheumatism. Yours truly, MRS. J. BOUTELL.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

Is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, and yet it is penetrating, and powerful to reach every deep seated pain, or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargements, such as spavins, splints, curbs, sallous, sprains, swellings and any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or for rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for illustrated circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success, to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.

Price $.100 per bottle. or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburg Falls, Vermont.

843 SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Littlefield & Weeks sell tripple silver plated knives at $3.50 per dozen, and warrant them.

—Everyone who has tried the "Sure Cure" is well pleased with it.

Band of Hope Wednesday afternoon. Send the children.

Good Templar's Social to-night. All are invited. Mr. Bourns will deliver an address.

One of the very best Congressmen Michigan has ever had in the National Councils is Edwin Willets. Vote for him.

The laboring men who have hitherto voted the Democratic ticket are coming over in scores onto the Lord's side, and will vote for Garfield and Arthur.

Mr. B. Macauley will appear at the opera house, Ypsilanti, Saturday eve. Nov. 6th in his original characterization of Uncle Dan'l, in the American Comedy, a messenger from Jarvis Section. The Detroit papers speak in the very highest terms of praise. But McCauley has a National reputation.

Don't put in two votes for Allen, but be sure and get one in the ballot box solid.

Vote for that sterling Republican
JOHN E. YOCUM.
for Surveyor.

M. W. Fitzgerald, of Gettesburg threshed for John Blake with a Wide Awake steam threasher, in ninety minutes 158 bushels of wheat, wheat taken from the top of mow. who can beat that?

For Register of Deeds we have a valliant soldier candidate
ERASTUS N. GILBERT.

We trust every soldier of the late "unpleasantness" will vote for Mr. Gilbert. He has a host of friends in Ann Arbor, also in this city and neighboring towns. But the cream of the matter is he is not only worthy but capable, a first class penman and fully up to the demands of the position. Soldier comrades vote for him and appeal to others to do likewise.

Our suggestion in regard to electing Prof. George an honorary member of the Grange is progressing. His potatoe premium led to his being invited to read a paper in open Grange last Wednesday evening. "American Literature" was the subject. Of course the Grangers were deeply interested.

A few weeks since we gave a history of
WILLIAM E. DEPEW,
Our candidate for Judge of Probate. As the reader noticed he has served his fellow citizens of Chelsea in several positions and every time received the plaudit "well done good and faithful servant." He is every inch a man and this is the highest praise that can be given. He will make an efficent and economical officer. Every citizen whether Republican or not can pull off his coat and work with a good heart for the election of Judge DePew.

This paper winds up the agony, and the COMMERCIAL turns to pastures green, a relief to some of our readers who have become tired of politics.

Gen. Cutcheon made an able speech in Detroit Tuesday evening. He gives Hancock just 138 votes.

For Senator, the Republicans of Washtenaw propose to vote in solid plalnax for that true man,
JOE T. JACOBS.

Business men are wanted in the Halls of legislation. Mr. Jacobs is an energetic, thorough business man. He will care for the varied interests of the county. Representing as he will, a county, in whose limits are the two grandest Institutions of learning in the country, and a resident of the Uuiversity city, unless we are hugely mistakened he will prove just the man for the position.

The officers of the New Jerusalem church Association were accidentally omitted last week. We give them now:

Rev. Dr. Hibbard, presiding Minister.
Rev. Mr. Shepherd, Vice President.
E. Laible, Secretary.
Mr. J. B. Warpe, Treasurer.
Mr. N. H. Chamberlin, Member of the Executive Board.

Rev. Dr. Brickman's able lectures at the Normal Friday and Saturday evenings were highly appreciated.

While you are about it be sure and put in a vote for the candidates for Coroners Drs.
BRAKEY AND OWEN.

Dr. Owen is well and favorably known in this locality. If it should be necessary to report on the Democratic corpse he will do it up brown.

Be on the look out for spurious ballots. They will be as thick as the leaves of the forest.

Among the noble men who have held aloft the republican banner in Washtenaw County, no truer or abler than CAPT. E. P. ALLEN.
A brave soldier in the war for the Union. His ballots and bullets have always taken the same direction, an ever ready advocate for every good cause, his voice has been often heard upon the platform at home and abroad in behalf of temperance. He has served two terms in the Legislature and stood among the foremost.

Our thanks are due Mr. Herbert Sweet for copies of the Atlanta Daily Constitution. The Constitution is sanguine with the 138 solid votes, that they will win. It goes for Wade Hampton heavy for his foolish letter to Sherman and his Staunton Speech. It laments Hancock's puerile letters on the Tariff, the idea that when he was a boy it was discussed in Pennsylvania and only a local question any way.

Every body in this section of the County is acquainted with the Republican candidate for Prosecuting Attorney
FRANK EMERICK.
Frank was born and brought up near this city. His esteemed parents Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Emerick who have resided in our midst over a half century are and have reason to be proud of their son. He is a graduate of our Union school. He has proved true to every responsibility to Washtenaw county. Among the many able and efficient attornies who have served her, never have had an abler and truer than Mr. E. has proved himself to be the last two years. If the other parts of the county will do as well as at his old boyhood home he will be his own successor.

Our office being so central, opposite to the post office, we would thank the friends to drop in Wednesday and thursday and give us election returns.

JAMES MCMAHON
AND FRANK HINCKLEY
Are the Republican candidates for County Commissioners. If there be a citizen in Washtenaw County that don't know Mr. McMahon, he is a new comer. Enquire of the older residents and you will want to vote for him. Mr. Hinckley is to the manor born. An Ypsilanti town boy, grown up in our midst, a well known and well read lawyer. He is a close, logical reasoner. We know of no lawyer in the circle of our acquantance better fitted for the office than Frank Hinckley.

The contrast between Ypsilanti in 1876 and 1880 in giving employment to labor is marked. In 1876, Edwards & Cooper's planing mills were closed, Grant's shops idle, Gilbert's and the Woolen Factory closed, other shops on half time. All the above are now running in full blast.

In this part of the County we need not say any thing in regard to our candidate for Sheriff
W. IRVING YECKLEY.
While he is known all over the county as an efficient supervisor, the man to whom quite largely the county is indebted for its new court house, he is known at home as a public spirited and valuable citizen. That he would make one of the best Sheriff's Washtenaw County has ever had, no one who knows him, especially his fellow citizens doubt for a moment. An honest effort in his behalf will elect him.

Turn out and hear Prof. Wilson, of Ann Arbor at Light Guard Hall to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. He is a whopper.

We are unacquainted with
FREDERICK FRITZENMAIR,
The candidate for County Treasurer. He has not called on us. We know no reason however why he should not have every Republican vote.

Officers elected by the I. O. G. T. at their regular meeting last Monday evening: W. C. T., F. J. Humphrey; W. V. T., Mary Leggat; W. R. S., Christian Endes; W. F. S., Adelbert Nichols; W. T., Satie Spears; W. M., Effie Pullen; W. I. G., Julia Hawkins; W. O. G., Kittie Pullen; W. C., Louise Rowley.

It is desirable to elect the best men to office, if we can ascertain who they are. If a man has done well once, good reason to believe that he will again. To say that,
EVERETT B. CLARK.
Is that best man for County Clerk, is what not a few believe. Saline will do her full duty by her fellow citizen. Don't you forget it. We quote from the Register.

Mr. Clark has conducted the affairs of the office upon the same principles that a good, careful and practical business man would his own business. The result has been a considerable saving to the people of the county and shows that honesty, fidelity and experience are a good investment for the tax-paying portion of the community.

A more obliging man or courteous official never held office in the county than the present County Clerk

There has been purchased to date 19,391 file covers at a total cost of $247.16 Previous to Mr. Clark's time, and under the former manner of doing business, the same goods have cost the county $30 per thousand, which would make the same number cost $581.73, a saving of $334.57, in favor of the present way of doing business.

The arranging of the files necesitated the purchase of several hundred pigeon hole tin boxes, and 570 boxes at 26 cents each cost $48.

Formerly the county paid nine shillings each for the boxes, at which price the same number of boxes would have cost $641.25.

It will be seen, therefore, that the large sum of $493 25 was saved in this item alone.

Until last winter wood has been used for heating the court house. A year ago last summer Mr Clark got bids from several dealers in coal and made a contract by which 89 tons were delivered in the bin, at $4.30 per ton, costing in all $384.85. There were also used in starting fires, etc., wood to the amount of $229.60.

It was of his own motion that Mr. Clark substituted coal for wood, and he is therefore entitled to the credit of saving the country $830.55 for the two years in the matter of fuel alone.

By conducting the business of his office on the principles a private individual would use in his own business, Mr. Clark has been able to make a saving in expense to the county which every taxpayer can certainly appreciate. He has been one of the most efficient and capable clerks which the county has ever had The members of the Bar and Board of Supervisors all bear witness to this. With his experience and record of two years past in the office, the people of the county can feel assured of an efficient and economical administration of its affairs in the two years to come if they reelect Mr. Clark. Do they want to experience the uncertainties of a change? The people have secured an honest, efficient, faithful and courteous officer in Mr. Clark and their interests will be best served by entrusting the duties of the office to an official who has been tried and whose qualifications are of the first order.

Light Guard Hall Packed Full

OF ENTHUSIASTIC CITIZENS,

To Hear Mr. M. C. Burch,
of Grand Rapids,

PULVERIZE THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

A Speech Bristling with Sharp Points.

Many a Democrat was on the anxious seat last Wednesday night and not a few went home convinced and converted. Convinced that the Democratic party in its platform by stealing Republican thunder, had stolen the "Livery of Heaven to serve the Devil in." He demonstrated the hollowness of Democratic platform professions for the laboring man and brought down the house in a roar of laughter and cheer upon cheer in his description of the "cormorant" in the platform rushing down from mid-sky and scooping up in his tallons the poor Democratic laboring man. The proposition submitted to the audience in regard to Garfield made a profound impression. The ludicrousness of imagining that a man of Gen. Garfield's opportunities as chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, to have stolen hundreds of thousands of dollars, and yet poor, only owning a small farm in Ohio and a mortgaged house in Washington, besides a man of high moral aspirations, should have unlawfully taken $329.00 A man's skull wants to be pretty thick to entertain any such an idea for a moment.

THE ISSUE IN THIS LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT IS A TEMPERANCE ONE SOLELY.

The issue is forced upon the temperance men of the District by the liquor interest. It is so regarded through the State. Capt. Allen's defeat would be hailed as a triumph of anti-submission and free whiskey. We would have chosen to have had it otherwise, simply a party issue as between the Republican and Democratic parties. But as the liquor interest not only of Ypsilanti, but of the entire State has made it an issue, we must meet it and meet it manfully. The issue is made that every temperance man in the District of whatever party who contributes to the defeat of Capt. Allen by vote or neglect to vote, is a traitor to the temperance cause which he professes to uphold. Let it be distinctly noted it is not an issue made by Republicans nor by Democrats. It is not an issue as between Mr. King and Capt. Allen personally. It is an issue larger and broader. It is an issue of momentous importance to the temperance cause in this locality and the State at large. And if the temperance men of this District allow themselves to be flanked and beaten in this stronghold of temperance, this notable centre in the grand conflict they deserve to be branded as moral cowards all over the State.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Alphred Humphrey of London, Canada, is visiting friends in this city.

Mr. Thomas Burry, agent of Zell's celebrated Encyclopedia for Washtenaw County is in the city. He is now a resident of Detroit, but intends making this city his future home.

Mr. J. C. Bagley now in his 86th years is visiting his old home and friends in Superior. He has been residing at Fentonville for ten years past. He calls himself one of the boys yet, never having been sick but once, and and full of life and animation.

NORMAL ITEMS.

W. H. Yerkes is the "boss jumper" at the Normal.

The class in Cicero has finished the third oration against Cataline.

Dr. A. O. Brickman addressed audiences at Normal Hall last week, the lectures were of a high order and instructive.

Some of us went to hear "Romeo and Juliet" last night, and were pleased.

J. H. Williams, John Western, Wallace Rogers and George H. McFetridge have gone home, some to teach, others to vote.

Several of our students make Ypsilanti their permanent residence and will vote next Tuesday.

Thursday morning the students listened to an essay entitled "Activity" by Mr. Harry A Lockwood.

The Virgil class is now groaning under a lesson of thirty-five lines besides a lesson in prosody, One hears them say, "I never can get those exceptions!" 120 lines per day will be the task ere they dream of it.

Ella Miller,	Wm. Moore,
	Ellen O'Sullivan or Flynn.

The Hudson Campaign lie, one of a batch so numerously hatched up by the Democracy, that Capt. Allen stated that "a man that would ask your son to vote the Democratic ticket ought to be shot," is so unlike him that no sane man who knows him could believe it. We pronounced it false and needing no attention at the start. Any quantity of affidavits have been sent the captain averring that he said no such thing. The editor entirely misapprehended him.

TIRED OF LIFE.

And well he might be, a bottle of whiskey his sole companion in life and in death.

Thursday morning Mr. Geo. Palmer and son while out hunting, discovered in a clump of trees on Mr. Wiard's farm, east of the city, the body of a man hung to a tree. It had evidently hung there some time as it had commenced to decay. The man had piled up some stumps and rubbish near by and from this novel scaffold swung into eternity. The body hung on an oak tree, four feet from the ground. The coat, shoes and stockings were off, sleeves rolled up. A bottle of whiskey with only a few drops left, lay on the ground. He had a black felt hat, fine woolen shirt, stripped overshirt, black frock coat, brown vest, black pants, stripped, short whiskers and auburn hair. Name unknown, though there are parties who think they have seen him, but can't recall his name. About thirty-five years old. Coroners Jury; Byron Hutchinson, M. L. Shutts, Chas. Seigmund Edward Jackson, Geo. Cady, J. Hanifan.

On finding the body Mr. Palmer immediately notified Justice Forsythe who, accompanied by Constable Shemeld, drove to the spot. Shemeld remained with the body while Forsythe returned to the city. The body was taken to the store of Mack & Mack where the inquest was held.

Scribner's Monthly celebrates its tenth birth day with a permanent change of cover, and with a number (for November) which the conductors have done all in their power to make one of exceptional beauty, interest and value, as it is also the largest number of Scribner every issued. Scribner's cover has turned from violet to a warm browo, and in the design the aim has been distinctness, simplicity, and a rich decorative effect. Millet's most famous picture, "The Sower," engraved by Cole, forms the frontispiece, and among the principal artistic features of the number are a striking portrait of Gladstone, printed in the body of the magazine, but without type either on the same page or on the back of the page.

From Maine to Texas the new mode of salutation has come to be "Have you read that book?" "Whose book?" "Why, the one written by 'One of the Fools' and dedicated 'to other members of the family.' You must get that,—it's a stunner!"

Your best friend suggests it as the most enjoyable thing he knows; the chance acquaintance and the stranger refer to it at once as the uppermost topic. For weeks the newspaper correspondent has dipped his nimble pen into every possible item of gossip concerning the author and the fame of his book.

The "great Dailies" devote two, three, and four columns to extracts from it and to comments on the elements of its power and popularity. It has even aroused the most staid and sober of the Monthlies and Quarterlies, and elicited their warmest admiration.

President Hayes sat down to read this remarkable story of recent events, and without waiting to complete it sent for a dozen copies to present to officials or personal friends.

Representative Southern men, including Postmaster-General Key and General Wright have taken hold of it with unexpected zest, pronouncing it the ablest and truest book ever written on the South.

So universally has it become known that we may be pardoned for giving you the question direct: "Have you read this book?" If not will you do so without delay?

RE-REGISTER, and don't forget it to-day!

DO YOU WANT TO LOSE YOUR VOTE? If so, forget to Register to-day.

THE LAST APPEAL.

The issues of this campaign are so clearly understood that little need be said in summing them up. The question that stands out prominently is this—Shall the men who sought for four years to destroy this government step in and rule it? It would seem that no true northern man would dare to stand upon his conscience and say yea, by his vote next Tuesday. Intimately allied with this and one that concerns the perpetuity of republican institutions is this; —Every free born and adopted son of America, whether white or black, shall be entitled to just one ballot and that ballot shall be counted. To this proposition we hear from every Republican throat the thundering cry, It shall be. And this genuine feeling and expression will go into the ballot-box Tuesday.

We need not refer to our State affairs. Gov. Blair says truly—

"Michigan under twenty-five years of ABSOLUTE REPUBLICAN CONTROL, has no superior among the States. In wealth, prosperity, education, virtue, and religious advancement she stands in the foremost rank."

As to the national administration, even Democrats eulogize Hayes and Sherman and affirm "That no better administration ever existed in this country." Republicans can go to the polls with good heart, to continue this honest and prosperous condition of affairs in the State and Nation. They can justly and earnestly plead with their fellow citizens, Democrats or Greenbackers, to vote with them.

The county ticket is an excellent one.

Rally, then, Republicans to the polls! Get out every voter. Do your level best, and Wednesday morning we can shout over the election of one of the purest and noblest statesmen this country has ever produced—JAMES A. GARFIELD,—over the continued prosperity of all our industries and the re-establishment of the liberty of the citizen in every part of the Republic.

EDITORIAL NOTES,

Eighty vessels were sunk by the great October storm.

Is there "balm in Gillead" for the Democratic party?

We can elect our county ticket if we will. Shall we will it?

There will be a grand smash up of sham Democracy next Tuesday.

Philp, the supposed forger of the Garfield Chinese letter is arrested.

The Free Press knew to a moral certainty that the Chinese letter was a forgery.

The president of the Hancock and English club in Hudson resigns his position and comes out for Garfeld and Arthur.

The Democratic party, through its managers must be held responsible for the basest forgery of this generation.

D. Darwin Hughes, of Grand Rapids, one of the ablest lawyers and a man of ideas, has come out for Garfield & Arthur.

One of the democratic candidates on the Ohio state ticket has declared for Garfield. The grand tidal wave is moving on.

Of all blunders by the democrats, the forging of a letter from Garfield on the labor question proves to be the worst.

The abortive efforts of the Democrats to affiliate with the Greenbackers in this state must disgust our hard money Democrats hereabouts.

The Hon. Richard Hawley, of Detroit, a Democrat, who has had frequent correspondence with Garfield, pronounces the Chinese letter a fraud.

Vote early, but not often. Then get your lagging Republican neighbors to do likewise. See that the sick, the aged, the infirm, get to the polls.

Who ever heard of a War Republican? There are War Democrats. Why? To distinguish them from the men who sympathized with the rebellion.

Look down the list on our county ticket and see if you can conscientiously scratch off one name. They are all good men and true, every one fully competent.

The forged Chinese letter, by an acknowledged low character, and endorsed by the Free Press, ought to gain Garfield 40,000 Democratic votes in Michigan.

"I am an old line Democrat, but I have voted the Democratic ticket for the last time." A little speech like that is heard just now in all quarters of the country.

There will be told on election day a bushel of lies manufactured for the occasion, to defeat Capt. Allen. Say to Satan, "get thee behind me," and vote for Allen.

Barnum, the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is another scoundrel or he would not be so mixed up with the publication of the forged letter.

The COMMERCIAL is devoted entirely to politics this week. Our readers will remember that an issue of the paper prior to a presidential election comes only once in four years.

Every temperance man will remember that the Liquor League in this state is supporting Holloway and that this same League is doing its level best to defeat Capt. Allen.

Temperance men will remember that Holloway is committed against submitting to the people an amendment to the constitution, prohibiting the vilest curse that afflicts our country.

Don't forget the essential need of a Republican majority in Congress to second and back up the administration of Gen. Garfield. See to it that Edwin Willits gets every Republican vote.

All the liquor men in the state would unite with the Devils in Hell, rejoicing over the defeat of Capt. Allen. Temperance men of Ypsilanti, shall they be permitted to hold such a jubilee?

Evidently the old Democratic hulk is rapidly going to pieces when even the New York Sun gets melancholly and all torn up. But it is nothing to the smash that is coming next Tuesday. Rats leave a sinking ship.

Governor Hendricks now accepts the inevitable, and says Indiana will give Garfield as large a majority as Grant had in 1872. Grants majority then was nearly 22,000. He also predicts Garfield's election.

Our readers will bear witness that the COMMERCIAL has refrained from "mud slinging." It has carried no thorn of sorrow into any opponent's breast by personal attack. We have conducted the campaign on broad party issues alone.

The degradation of the Free Press is more apparent from the fact that the forged letter was first published where it originated, in one of the lowest sheets in New York, a paper "crammed with scurrility, falsehood, and sensationalism."

The October elections are fearfully hard on the sporting Democrats. They put so much faith in their party prophets that they made bets recklessly, and at great odds, particularly on Indiana. Probably their pockets were never more thoroughly scooped out.

The Daily Constitution, Atlanta, says "that the 138 electoral votes of the South are practically undisputed" and that "if the Democratic party can't get the remaining forty-seven votes required from New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana, it deserves to be whipped."

The exultation of Hancock over a greenback governor, supposed to be elected in Maine, has caused a cold shudder to run through the hard-money democrats and the intensely earnest greenbackers, just as his foolishness on the tariff has disgusted both free-traders and protectionists.

It seems to me that every man, especially every young man, before casting a ballot, should ask himself this one question: "Which of the contending parties of this country will most certainly, most readily, most surely and completely subserve his interest as a citizen?"

The death of Robert F. Johnstone at the age of sixty-four, will come home to every editor in the state, as well as every farmer. He was a noble specimen of true cultured manhood. He died a few minutes after twelve o'clock last Sunday night, at his home and without warning, of heart disease.

The triumphs achieved this month in Ohio and Indiana but foreshadow the still greater ones to come. They will prove the death-knell of the solid political south. The Republicans of the north are fully aroused to the truth that the Democratic party conquered those states by violence and now propose to retain them by fraud.

There will be, between now and Tuesday, roorbacks, false statements, perjured letters and all kinds of campaign trash designed to mislead the people and loose votes for Garfield & Arthur. Give these lying statements to the winds and march in solid column to the polls and vote for that gallant and noble statesman, James A. Garfield.

In his speech in New York city Secretary Sherman went for Wade Hampton lively, denouncing his Ku Klux bands. Wade was mad and called Sherman to account. Sherman repeated that it was a disgrace to him and the South, receiving the benefits of Ku Klux, red shirts, etc. Hampton, like a silly boy and with much bravado, challenges Sherman to mortal combat. Leading Democrats says that this tom-foolery will cost them 50,000 votes in the North. It ought to.

That ninny of the Ann Arbor Democrat accuses the COMMERCIAL of calling Democrats in Washtenaw county, rebels. He don't give any quotation to prove it. It is a great mistake, entirely untrue. It is true the party as a whole winks at and squarely sympathizes with men at the south who disfranchise Republicans and are bound not to have a free vote and a fair count. Democrats of Michigan are a good ways from being rebels. Misrepresentation will not advance your cause.

THE DEROIT FREE PRESS is acting the part of a scoundrel in politics. It is a villain only that will come out with a perjured letter, knowing it to be false, and pronounced so by Gen. Garfield, and even after the forjer is exposed and has the penitentiary staring him in the face. As pronounced a partisan sheet as the N. Y. World would have nothing to do with it. The forged letter was intended to affect the election in California. Why does the Free Press and other unprincipled papers publish it? They are in hopes that a lie well stuck to will get the Democratic party some votes. It ought to lose the party a million of votes, and it will have this effect in the case of every honest, conscientious voter.

The temperance men of Michigan, the praying women, are looking to this Legislative District with intense interest. The cohorts of intemperance in every part of the state have turned their leering gaze to us. A million of people are asking, "What will the First Legislative District of Washtenaw county do Tuesday?" Voters, let us show to the state and the country what we are. An intelligent, moral, temperance people. Armed for the conflict by every right motive that can stir the human breast, arise in your great might and give Capt. Allen a majority that will gladden the hearts of temperance men every where and send consternation into the ranks of the upholders of the vilest sin that ever cursed the race.

Our readers will remember that, the week of Gen. Hancock's nomination, we pronounced him the "weakest and most unfit candidate ever presented to the American people." Our opinion expressed at that time has been confirmed as the campaign progressed. A man running for the presidency who knows so little of the constitution as he betrays by his claims' letter, and on the tariff. We quote "The tariff is a local question." Why, any school boy of fifteen years knows better. And "The same question was brought up once in my native place, Pennsylvania." Then add "It is a matter the general government seldom cares to interfere with." Oh, granny! The ignoramus. According to the constitution the general government is the only power that can interfere with the tariff. The back-woods school boy knows this. Well, vote for this "supurb" statesman if you want to.

THE FACTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE COMMERCIAL:

Understanding that parties are circulating the story that Mrs. John Baker was charged an exorbitant price by Capt. E. P. Allen for legal services, I desire to state the facts:

John Baker was fast becoming a confirmed drunkard. Mrs. B. went to Mr. Allen for advice, who at once told her to serve notices under the law forbidding all saloon men to sell her husband liquor. He drew twenty-two notices and had his clerk serve them, and charged $3.00 therefor. The remedy was effectual for from that day Mr. Baker has been a sober man. The price might have been three times as high and yet it would have been cheap. The attempt to defeat Mr. Allen by such a dirty process is unworthy the lowest loafer. I paid the fee cheerfully, and the first week's savings of Mr. B. by not drinking, paid for it.

J. J. STEPHENSON,
Brother-in-law of the parties interested.

THE ECKERISH CASE.

An unfavorable feeling against Mr. Emerick, the present Prosecuting Attorney, having been attempted to be created by certain persons, some of whom know better, by ascribing to Mr. E. responsibility in some manner for the failure of the prosecution of Martin Eckerish in a case commenced some years ago. We state briefly the facts concerning that case which show that Mr. E. could not have been in any way to blame for that result:

This case was begun by the arrest and examination of Eckerish in August, 1878, long before Mr. Emerick was even nominated for the office of Prosecuting Attorney. and he at that time acted and was retained as counsel for the defendant. Eckerish was bound over for trial at the Circuit Court. In November 1878 Mr. Emerick was elected Prosecuting Attorney, and commenced the duties of his office, Jan. 1st., 1879. This case was then pending in the Circuit Court, and Mr. E. had acted as this man's lawyer in this very matter.

The laws of this state in such a case requires the Circuit Court to appoint by an order entered upon its journal, some other attorney-at-law to prosecute such suit who shall thereupon be vested with all the powers of the Prosecuting Attorney.

The Court did this by an order entered upon the 7th day of January, 1879, which may be found on page 130 of journal of the Washtenaw Circuit Court. The following is a copy of the order:

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN, vs MARTIN ECKERISH.

In this cause, it appearing to the Court that Frank Emerick, Prosecuting Attorney of this county, is disqualified from prosecuting this suit by reason of having acted as counsel for said defendant before his election: It is ordered by the Court now here that J. Willard Babbitt be, and he is hereby appointed io prosecute said cause for and on behalf of the said People.

After this Mr. Babbitt had the entire and exclusive control of this suit and Mr. Emerick had no more control or responsibility therefor than any other citizen in this county.

J. WEBSTER CHILDS ON THE ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

The following letter from the Hon. J. Webster Childs was sent in response to an invitation from the chairman of the state central committee to take the stump for a portion of the campaign:

YPSILANTI, OCT. 18, 1880.

The HON. H. P. Baldwin, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

DEAR SIR—Yours of the 12th is received, asking if I could make a few political speeches during the remainder of this month. Absence from home is my excuse for not answering earlier.

In reply, permit to say that I had earnestly hoped that before this time I should have been able to accept the invitation you extended to me in the early part of the campaign, and to have taken an active part in this most important political contest. But with much regret I am compelled to say that the condition of my throat and lungs will make it impossible for me at present to do any public speaking with safety to my health. It would have been a great pleasure to me to have been permitted through the entire campaign to have exerted what little influence I might have had in aiding to arouse the public mind of our noble Republican state to some just sense of the incalculable importance of the crisis that is upon us, a crisis in which the American people are called upon to decide, and that perhaps for generations to come, by the ballot, questions which we supposed had been settled, and that forever, upon the battle field;

1. Whether we are a nation one and inseparable, a glorious nation of freemen, with all the vast and grand possibilities that the future foreshadows before us, or simply a confederacy of states—bound together with a rope of sand, liable at any time to be broken into fragments by internal feuds. or sundered forever by the clashing of diverse local interests.

2. Whether our country is to be ruled and the character of its institutions and government decided by a southern civilization, the very corner-stone of which for ages has been the most accursed system of tyranny—a civilization that to-day, while the highest law of the land guarantees to all her law-abiding citizens equal rights, has virtually wiped out free government within all its borders, disfranchised by force and fraud hundreds of thousands of its citizens, and boldly proclaims that the principles for which, as a solid south, it is now contending are the same for which armed traitors fought less than a score of years since, and on a hundred battle-fields, amidst blood and slaughter, sought the overthrow of a form of government they hated then and hate still. Or, on the other hand, shall all the glorious future of our country have its institutions and laws characterized, and its vast and rapidly unfolding resources and interests protected and fostered by a northern civilization, embued with the spirit that animated the Pilgrim Fathers—every pulsation beating in harmony with the Declaration of Independence—that would extend to the south as well as to the north—to the black man as well as to the white equal protection, and would not only pledge, but secure to every American citizen, whether rich or poor, humble or exaulted, in all the civil and political walks of life, all the rights of a freeman. These are the all important questions that the election on the 2d of November is to decide,

The Republican party is a party thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the civilization of the north. The power that would shape the policy of the Democratic party is at the south, and notwithstanding they have nominated a northern man as their candidate for President, were the reins of government to pass into its hands (which God forbid) the southern leaders of that party, once traitors in arms against the government, would dictate and shape the policy of that party. And what reason have we to suppose that were the power in the hands of a solid south, they would exercise that power any more wisely or justly in controlling the affairs of the nation than they have in the political management of their own states?

But the great north is getting aroused to a just sense of the possible danger. The grand results of the elections in Ohio and Indiana are an omen and pledge of a glorious triumph in November next.

The people are prepared to trust the party that, under God, saved the nation in the hour of its greatest peril, and not only overthrew the armed hosts of treason, but has by a wise policy brought the country safely through the years of financial depression and panic that inevitably follows a long and expensive war, and has placed it, with all its vast and rapidly developing interests and industries, on the grand highway of an unprecedented prosperity.

Now let the Republicans of Michigan come forward and roll up one of our old-time majorities, and while we have no congressmen to gain, as our sister states have, let us see to it that we return an unbroken delegation, that on every question of national importance the united voice and vote of Michigan shall be on the side of justice, truth and equal rights to all.

Don't Make a Mistake.

Why will you use salves and lotions, and other outward appliances for the cure of skin diseases? The relief thus obtained can only be temporary. Why not strike at the root of all skin diseases by getting your blood and liver in a healthy, vigorous condition? This can only be done effectively and thoroughly by the use of Dr. Guysott's Yellow Deck and Sarsaparilla. 845. 1 yr.

It's Just a Booming.

Such is the expression of druggists and dealers everywhere who are selling DR. KINGS NEW DISCOVERY for Consumption. No like preparation can begin to have such rapid and extensive sale. And why? Simply because of its truly wonderful merits. No cough or cold, no matter of how long standing or how stubborn, can withstand its healing qualities. Asthma, Broncetis, Hoarseness, Hay Fever, Pain in the Side or Chest, Difficulty of breathing, or any lingering disease of the Throat and lungs, rapidly yield to its marvelous powers. It will positively cure, and that where everything else has failed. Satisfy yourself as thousands have already done by getting of your druggist, Frank Smith, a trial bottle for ten cents, or a regular sized bottle for $1.00. For sale by Frank Smith, Ypsilanti.

Now is the Time.

Don't wait until you are nearly dead and bed-ridden. Don't wait until you have found, to your sorrow, that mineral poisons and alcoholic stimulants, bitters, etc., will aggravate diseases of the blood, kidneys and liver. But now, before another day passes, make haste to procure and use Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It never fails to cure all blood and skin diseases, all liver complaints and urinary troubles. 845 1 yr.

MALARIAL POISON.

The principal cause of nearly all sickness at this time of the year has its origin in a disordered Liver which, if not regulated in time, giant suffering, wretchedness and death will ensue. A gentleman, writing from South America, says: "I have used your Simmons' Liver Regulator with good effect, both as a prevention and cure for Malarial Fevers on the Isthmus of Panama."

If you feel drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or "biliousness,' and nothing will cure you so speedily and so permanently as to take

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.

It is gigen with safety and the happiest results to the most delicate infant. It takes the place of quinine and bitters of every kind. It is the cheapest, purest and best family medicine in the world.

From Our Washington Correspondent.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October, 1880.

MR. EDITOR:—

The booming victories in Ohio and Indiana filled Republican hearts with the most buoyant hopes, presaging a Waterloo defeat of the bourbans November 2d. This pent up enthusiasm gave expression in an impromptu jollification more grand and complete than any ever held at the nation's capital. The city was ablaze with torches, fire-works and illuminations. Flags, banners and transparences were everywhere. Fifty thousand people were in the procession or witnesses of the brilliant pageant. Attorney General Devens and many other distinguished orators addressed vast crowds from three different stands. The meeting adjourned to convene again on Monday evening, to tender a serenade and tender their respects to Secretary Sherman. Full 25,000 persons were on hand, with enthusiasm unabated. Flags, banners, transparances, brass bands, fire works, torches, eloquent speeches—made it an occasion long to be remembered by the distinguished recipient, and worthy of Republicans who honor him as the country's astute Minister of Finance.

The frothy effusions of the candidate of the solid south on the tariff have added no laurels to the soldier who now is at the head of the rebel column in its onward march toward the White House. It has been determined by the Democratic doctors that their candidate shall be kept on low diet and dosed with astringents till after election.

Hancock's goose-quill, inspired by a mad ambition to be President, has ruined him with his strongest friends. His lucid explanation of his views on the payment of the rebel claims was so loose and illogical that a four-horse mule team could be driven through it tandem or four in-hand. The pertinent question may be asked why General Garfield has not felt himself called upon to electrify the country by writing a letter on the payment of rebel claims. The simple reason is that the Republican party has made its record on that subject and its virtue is established, while Hancock finds it necessary to white wash his party, that has been hankering so long after the flesh-pots of Egypt—ever since the close of the war.

The record of Wm. H. English while here at the capitol is in perfect harmony with life in his later years. His Grandmother's pension pocketed was bad enough, the sale of his position when he found he was to be removed was a healthy one for his exchecquer, and was in keeping with the apparent motto of his life, "The devil take the hindmost." His votes while in Congress were in full accord with his sentiments both before and since the war. Having early joined the hide-bound Democracy, not a spark of love for the Union ever inspired him in any act, either in public or private life. February, 1861, General Scott ordered seven companies of artillery to this city to protect the public property." The day after their arival, L. O. Branch, M. C, from North Carolina, afterwards a rebel brigadier, offered the following:

Resolved, That the quartering of troops of the regular army in this district and around the capitol, when not necessary for their protection from a hostile enemy, and during the session of Congress, is impolitic and if permitted may be destructive of civil liberty, and in the opinion of this House the regular troops now in this city ought to be forthwith removed therefrom.

William H. English voted and spoke in favor of the adoption of this resolution. It was just like him. When the National Era was mobed in this city it is alleged that Wm. H. English made one of the crowd. It is no wonder that the intelligent voters of Indiana repudiated this specimen brick from the Democratic camp.

Republicans at the capital are still jubilant over the splendid victories in Ohio and Indiana. Wade Hampton has unwittingly furnished one of the most telling campaign documents of the season. Secretary Sherman, scorning his intimations of a settlement under the code duello, charges Hampton and his Solid South with being responsible for sympathy with, and in power because of the wicked and most damnable crimes of all grades, from ballot box stuffing to murder, through the hellish operations of the ku klux and night riders. This heroic agent of the 138 votes of the Solid South, amazed at Sherman's pluck, inquires "Who struck Billy Patterson?" and cries out with tender pathos, "O, my patriotic South Carolina, when a man strikes at you through me, immaculate as I am, I shall say to him as I did to Sherman, that he tells a lie. Yes sir-ree, I will, you bet.!" Pistols and coffee cut no figure with Secretary Sherman, but he is ready for resumption any time on Hampton.

The last few days have shown that the Democratic party is in the last stages of dissolution. In Virginia, just across the Potomac, the death-rattle can be distinctly heard. There is a lingering hope for that State, according to Watts:

"While the lamp holds out to burn,
The vilest sinner may return."

General, Grant, replying to a recent letter inviting him to visit that state, said: "I will not be able to do so, but if the effect will be what you predict—to add materially to the Garfield and Arthur ticket—I would make great sacrifices to accomplish that result. I do not think there are many friends of mine who will fail to support that ticket, unless it is where (and because) they think their vote can do no possible good. In Virginia they should not think this."

There is now little more that can be done. Let every Union man vote as he fought; let every mother, sister, wife and daughter, pray as they did during the war; let the North stand for the old flag as they did four years of yore; let the laboring man, as he remembers the days of pinching poverty, cast his ballot for the party which brought the country into the haven of prosperity; let the business man, who wants no experiments with untried public servants, but desires stability and permanency in government affairs—let all who want no Free Trade schemes to close our factories and silence the hum of the spindles—let all who want the National debt paid, and the rebel debt consigned to oblivion—let all who want peace, prosperity, jusstice and righteousness to prevail and crown this land—let all these vote the Republican ticket, and Hancock will not carry a single Northern state, and making it difficult for Hampton to deliver even the 138 votes of the Solid South. Then shall the shout of victory ring out through the land as it did at the fall of Richmond and the surrender of Appomattox. PARKS.

Garfield on the Chinese Question.

Special Dispatch to the Post and Tribune.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21st. — In interviews which the city editors of the Leader had with Gen. Garfield sometime previous to his nomination, opinions were expressed directly contained in the bogus letter relative to the Chinese and the working classes, which it is claimed by some parties that Gen. Garfield wrote in January of this year to Mr. H. L. Morey Lynn, Mass. The following is an extract regarding coolie labor. from one of these interviews:

"What is your opinion, General, in reference to the Chinese question?"

"I have a great deal of sympathy with the people of California and other Pacific states, but it was a mistake on the part of some Congressmen to confound the emigration of the regular Chinese to this country with the advent of coolies who may be brought under contract and perhaps as slaves. We have a right to reject all slaves. There are laws to prevent their importation to the United States as in old times. These laws would apply to the coolies just as stringently, or, better still, to obtain the end in view of preventing the introduction of coolie labor to the disadvantage of the working classes of this country, or better still we might have a treaty with China by which it would be understood that slaves or coolies were not to be landed on our shores. But to say that any well behaved, law-abiding person should be kept away when desirous of coming of his own free will, aside from the coolie system, would be hard, and contrary to the intentions of our institutions."

"Will a bill of the character you indicate be apt to pass?"

"A bill in some modified form may be presented, and if it is in any proper shape relative to the coolies, we, the republicans in Congress, will be willing to help its passage, and the President will concur in it, otherwise not."

The Democratic Mania.

To the Editor of the Evening News:

The Democrats with their usual asininity are doing things wrong end first. If they hope to win, English should open his barrel and Hancock close his mouth and cork up his inkstand. But instead of this English sits on the bung hole and Hancock talks and writes. Whenever the "supurb" has attempted to say anything during the campaign he has blundered. His congratulatory dispatch on the fusion victory in Maine disgusted the hard money Democrats of the east. His letter on the rebel claims caused the Republicans to drop the bloody shirt issue which was winning them no votes and to take up the tariff which has so effectually secured the Democrats that they are now repudiating their "tariff for revenue only" plank and are trying to climb on to the Republican platform. When he stated that the "tariff is a local issue which the general government seldom cares to interfere with" and which "once came up in my native town." No one believed the report that he had made such a "superb" ass of himself until he himself pronounced it true. And we are much mistaken if his letter to Senator Randall does not prove a boomerang. But let the Democrats thank God and take courage. He now has a cold which prevents him from addressing the delegations which visit him. H.

The Washington special states that the fact is fully established that the Hancock-Randolph tarriff corespondence was written on Friday, the fifteenth, and dated back. Senator Randolph's letter was dated back to Monday, the day before election, and Gen. Hancock's reply was dated the 12th, the day of election. This was done after consultation as the best means of creating the impression that the letters were not called out by the panic created by the elections. And so a candidate for the presidency has made himself a party to publishing an important correspondence designed to affect national opinion with fraudulent dates!

The New York Truth published a letter on the Chinese question purporting to be written by Gen. Garfield. It was so silly, and coming from a dead man, that no one believed it genuine. It proved to be forged by one of the editors of The Truth.

MENTOR, O., Oct. 22, 1880.
To the Hons. M. Jewell and S. W. Dorsey.

I will not break the rule I have adopted by making a public reply to campaign lies; but I authorize you to denounce the so-called Morey letter as a bold forgery, both in its language and sentiment. Until its publication I never heard of the employers' union of Lynn, Mass., nor of such a person as H. L. Morey. J. A. GARFIELD.

In a subsequent telegram Gen. Garfield directs that the forger be ferreted out, and $5,000 reward was offered for his arrest and conviction.

LYNN, Mass, Oct. 23, 1880.
C. O. Cooper, Secretary of the Republican State Executive Com., Jersey City, N. J.

I have questioned clerks and carriers. No such man as H. L. Morey has ever received letters to their knowledge. Name not in city directory or on postoffice or carrier books. JOHN G. B. ADAMS, Postmaster.

The following telegram has been sent by the postmaster at Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Oct. 23, 1880.
The Hon. Marshall Jewell.

That the whole thing is a manufactured, bald, and villainous fraud the following facts will clearly show: No such cancelling stamp as is shown on the envelope was in use in the Washington postoffice on the 23d of January, the date the letter is claimed to have been mailed. The Truth fac simile is a very good representation of the new stamp but is totally unlike the one in use in this office on the 23d of January, the old stamp being made of rubber and the new one of steel, and very unlike in their arrangement. This shows conclusively that the whole matter is an unmitigated forgery, for which the authors should be sent to the penitentiary.

D, B. AINGER,
Postmaster, Washington, D. C.

From the Chicago Times.

In short the alleged Garfield letter and the alleged Weaver letter are both proven to be absolute forgeries by evidence which would convict the forger before any jury in Christendom.

On Sunday Don Piatt said in his bitterly anti Republican paper, the Wafhington Capitol:

The fabricator of this alleged letter makes Garfield spell companies with a "y"—thus: "companys." We do not think any further analysis is required. We are astonished at the stupidity of the Democratic committee in lending its countenance to the circulation of such rank fraud on its face.

Col. R. G. Ingersoll summed up the case well when he said in his speech in New York on Saturday evening.

Gen. Garfield to-night is poor in money, but he is rich in honor and integrity. In brain he is a millionare. I know him and I like him. Men are blackening his reputation who are not fit to blacken his shoes. The last is a forgery. I saw to-day a fac-simile of what purported to be one of his letters. I know his writing and am well acquainted with his signature, and I tell you that letter and that signature are forgeries. They cannot take from him a vote. The rebel line cannot reform with a forgery for a standard.

The letter is one of the most flagrant lies which has ever been concocted by a desperate party upon the eve of defeat. We call upon the fair minded and truth loving voters of this country to make the overthrow of the Democratic party so sweeping on November 2 that the political jugglers and impostors will be taught a lesson which will be remembered in all future contests.

MARSHALL JEWELL.

From the Michigan Christian Herald.

MOREAU. S. OROSBY.

The nomination of this man for the office of Lieutenant-Governor of Michigan is a great gratification to many. A graduate of Rochester University, and for some fifteen years a resident of Grand Rapids, during all of which time he has been a member of the Baptist church, always standing in the front rank of its best workers, and also a cordial helper in Young Men's Christian Association efforts, the christian people of the state may depend on him as one who will make manifest his christian faith and purposes wherever he may be placed.

Also, and especially, in these columns would we recognize the fact that his loyalty to Christ includes an unwavering support to the temperance cause. If elected to office, liquor dealers and advocates may expect no favor at his hands, and this simply because of his profound convictions as to the wrong of the liquor traffic. From him the friends of temperance may expect every thing which may rightfully come from a God-fearing, humanity-loving executive. In a recent letter he says:

"I have always claimed to be a temperance man, and think I am so regarded by those who know me best—my neighbors and friends. Further, I can see no good reason why any constitutional Amendment should not be submitted by the Legislature to the people for ratification or rejection, whenever any considerable portion of the people of the state demand it. Such a course leaves the question where it really belongs, to the individual vote."

"During the past four years, 3,874 illicit stills have been seized, and 7,078 persons arrested for illicit stilling; and, I regret to add, that twenty-five officers and employes of the Government have been killed, and fifty-five wounded while enforcing the laws in this respect." Here is the most positive proof of deliberate, systematic, willful violation of law, supported by a spirit of resistance to its authority that does not hesitate even at the assassination of the officers of the law. Every one of those illegal distilleries was run under Democratic auspices, and every one of these murderers was a Democrat.—Carl Shurz.

Here is what the New York world said editorially about Gen. Garfield in one of its issues of a year or two years ago:

In the midst of the organized carnival of corruption which has been going on now so many weary months and years at Washington it is really satisfactory to catch glimpses now and then of honesty for honesty's sake, and without consideration of party. Gen. Garfield of Ohio is a Republican of Republicans, but it is his simple due, which we gladly pay him, to admit that he has done more than any other single member of his party, during the late session of congress, to show that it is not absolutely impossible for a man to act with a congressional majority and yet to keep his self-respect and the respect of honest men.

A young man wrote to Gen. Grant, under date of August 31, asking him to send "a short motto—a rule of life, with autograph." To this Gen. Grant replied with the following suggestions:

Vote the Republican ticket till every man in the nation entitled to a vote can cast just one vote at each election, for which party he pleases, without fear or molestation, and have it honestly counted, and you will feel conscious of having done your duty as a citizen. —U. S. Grant.

The fiercest light that ever beat upon a throne is not brighter than the light in which the Republican party has continually been seen. You have arrayed against it a party which has over and over again been weighed in the ballance and wanted below. [Great laughter.] Now, fellow citizens, I am going to leave you. [Cries of 'Go on'!] Napoleon said to his soldiers when in Egypt, "From these pyramids forty centuries look down upon you." I tell you that all the centuries look down upon this great republic from sepulchre of buried epochs, from the toombs of nationalities that have gone down in darkness and in blood, from every clime where human rights are trodden under foot from the old world, from distant China and Japan, from underneath every sun beneath whose beams humanity struggles, there comes a prayer and a hope for us. [Applause.] It is not that we may fight. The world has seen us fight. No nation in christendom will ever seek a quarrel with you, the men who carried the starry banner from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf. The battles which were fought, the display which was made of the terrible enginery of war, satisfied every people from the rising of the sun, even to the going down of the same, that when they would seek a quarrel, the republic of America was not the nation with whom to seek it. The centuries which have gone, the humanity which struggles and prays for the right of free self-government which we enjoy does not pray that we exhibit more military prowess, but prays that we may have peace and order; that we may pursue as a band of brothers, with common ties and a common nationality, with civilization broad enough to embrace all races, the care of which stretches out before us and which, pursued, will give to America a career of prosperity, of grandeur, of primacy, of glory, never approached by any of the empires of earth. [Prolonged applause.] —Sen. Conkling.

The Troy Times hints that Hancock is afflicted with the Presidential itch. Never mind, he will smell sulphur in November. That'll fix him.

In the present close, strenuous struggle between two great parties for control of the government it is well to remember that our history shows there is a Providence which presides over the ballot box, and that, as heretofore, there are divine purposes running out to beneficent ends away into the months that lie behind November. Let the good man do his duty at the polls and commit the issue cheerfully to God.

The Democratic candidate for superintendent of public instruction in Indiana sought to secure election by having republican tickets printed with the Republican candidate's name omitted and his own inserted instead. When men who seek the important position of a superintendent of the education of the young will descend to the dirty tricks of curb-stone politicians in order to obtain office, it is time they should meet an inglorious defeat,—just such an one as the Democratic candidate referred to has already met.

DOCTORS PRESCRIBE IT!
LAWYERS ADVOCATE IT!
MINISTERS RECOMMEND IT!
AND EVERYBODY SPEAKS WELL OF IT.

It has cured most stubborn cases, when every other known liniment has failed. Why suffer, dear reader, when a remedy so sure and simple is now within your reach. Read, please, the testimony of those who have used it and prove its value.

Wm. A. Throop, of Detroit, says nothing but Spaulding's Lighning Linament ever did him any good.

Len. I. Clark, formerly of Howard House, Detroit, says it has done wonders for him.

Chas. Redfield, Adrian, Mich., says it cured his daughter, who has suffered years with Rheumatism.

Wm. C. Gustine, Grand Rapids, Mich., says he has been a chronic sufferer from inflammatory Rheumatism in his knees and feet for ten years, and nothing but Spaulding's Lightning Linament ever did him good.

Mr. F. P. Way, Printer, Detroit, says his wife, (who had not been able to walk across the room for months) after using a few bottles of Linament, walked about quite comfortably.

The Linament is now for sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per bottle, only one size.

An Appeal to Michigan Women.

To Go to the Polls and Help Nullify the Liquor Dealer's Efforts.

The following address has been promulgated by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Michigan:

To the Woman's Christian Temperance Unions of Michigan.

The issue before the people at the next state election is one of vital importance to our cause. The only alternative is to yield our most precious interests to the control of those engaged in the liquor trafic or to elect such a legislature as will listen to the demand of the people and give them an opportunity to say whether they will free themselves from this terrible curse, "and such local officers as will secure an honest vote and fair count" when the question is presented. We appeal to you, both in your organized and idividual capacity, to use your entire influence for the success of the right. Your husband and sons will speak for you at the polls, See that they do not belie your principles. Give time and care to distributing documents and ballots approved by the Red Ribbon state central committee. We think the importance of the issue will justify you in personal influence at the polls. We are sure your presence there will not only promote the cause of temperance but also of order and morality.

MRS. R. B. HUDSON,
Pres. S. W. C. T. U.
MARY T. LATHROP, Sec.

Hancock on Parade as a Statesman.

It is a novel thing to ask a candidate to veto the measures of his own party, but political exegencies require it The reply of Gen. Hancock was rather an amusing performance. First he assured Mr. Cook that the Southern Claims were a "bug bear" and then pledged himself to smash the bugbear with a veto. And he further manifested his ignorance of the seriousness of the matter by assuming that the claims were all covered by the constitutional prohibitions. If unconstitutional, then Congress could not give the claims validity, and to veto an unconstitutional thing would be to assert for the veto an efficacy curing some weakness in the Constitution itself. It was a funny performance.

Later on in the canvass the Tariff:

"The tariff question is a local question. The same question was brought up once in my native place in Pennsylvania. It is a matter that the General Government seldom cares to interfere with, and nothing is likely to be done that will interfere with the industries of the country."

To say that the above from Gen. Hancock was received with astonishment throughout the country, by both Democrats and Republicans, is to put it in a very mild form. It exhibited such amazing ignorance of the question and its history, and of the far reaching effects of tariff laws.

We suspect the manufacturers will be no better satisfied with this second great effort of the superb Democratic statesman than they were with the first. They will fail to see where his vaunted abilities to handle public questions come in, and will perversely persist in voting for Garfield.

General Hancock is demonstrating his capacity as a statesman with striking rapidity. Neither Tilden, nor Thurman, nor Bayard, nor Hendricks could have conceived so masterful a reply to the question of the Patterson reporter. — Cincinnati Commercial.

Gen. Garfield in response to a delegation of colored men says:

Of all the problems that any nation ever confronted none was ever more difficult than that of settling the great race question which your existence upon this continent brought to our people, and settling it on the basis of broad justice and equal rights to all. It was a tremendous trial of the faith of the American people, a tremendous trial of the strength of our institutions. It was not for your sake alone that the thoughtful men of this country struck slavery and said it must die. It was certainly a good reason why slavery ought to die that it wronged your race, but it was an equally good reason why it ought to die because it was dangerous to the peace and prosperity of the white race and to the stability of the republic. We are always inclined to express too much sympathy with the man who suffers wrong. That is right, but we ought also to express anxious solicitude for the man who does wrong, for in one very important sense he is more to be pitied than the victim. If a man murders you without provocation, your soul bears no burden of the wrong; but all the sad angels of the universe will weep for the misguided man who committed the murder. And so I say the men who enslaved your race were wronging themselves as well as you. To protect them from being wrong doers, and to shield your race from suffering wrong, was the mighty problem which was solved by the abolition of slavery.

Now, fellow-citizens, after the fierce struggle of the war, after Lincoln had given utterance to the great thoughts that the centuries of slavery had committed so great a sin that without the shedding of blood there was no remission, and that our war was the bloody expiation for that sin, even then, when you were made free by the proclamation of Lincoln and by the amended Constitution that gave you citizenship your problem was not solved. What is freedom without intelligence to use it wisely? What is freedom without virtue and intelligence combined to make it not a curse but a blessing? You were not made free merely to be allowed to vote but in order to enjoy an equality of opportunity in the race of life, and to stand equal before the law. Permit no man to praise you because you are black, nor wrong you because you are black. Let it be understood that you are ready and willing to mark out your own material salvation by your own energy, your own worth, your own labor. All that liberty can do for you is to give you a fair and equal chance within the limits of the Constitution, and by the exercise of its proper powers. It is the purpose of the best men on this continent to give you this equal chance, and nothing more. I congratulate you on the great advance which your race has already made under liberty. I have seen your representatives in Congress, one of them in the Senate, and I have seen them behave with such self-restraint, good sense, judgment, modesty and patriotism that it has given me new hope that all their brethren will continue to climb up towards the light with every new opportunity.

The frantic efforts of the Democratic party to cover up their shameful history by pointing to the excellent services rendered the country by their Presidential candidate reminds us very forcibly of the animal who covered himself with the skin of a deceased lion, and would fain pass himself off for a member of the royal line--a monarch of the forest; but alas! his first attempt to inspire terror by an imitation of the lion's roar, only resulted in a laughter-provoking bray! The moral is obvious.

About once in twenty years the people want a candidate from the ranks of the people. In 1840 it was General Harrison, the log cabin candidate of Tippecanoe. In 1860 it was Honest Abe, the rail splitter. In 1880 it is Gen. Garfield, the wood chopper and canal driver. And it is remarkable that when the people make up their minds that they want such a man, they elect him with majorities that admit of no questioning.

No man is so great, so good or so wise that he can successfully ride two horses tied together by the tails and galloping in different directions. A great number of American politicians have tried it, but none has yet succeeded. The fate of Douglas, of Greeley, of Thurman, of Hendricks, should have warned Gen. Hancock against a repetition of so dangerous an experiment. His extraordinary letter on the tariff question will not be apt to serve any end beneficial to himself.—Chicago Times.

And now Gen. Arthur [applause], our townsman and our friend, is proposed to make one more in the long roll of vice presidents that New York has given to the nation. [Applause.] Everybody knows of Gen. Arthur that he never sought an honor but took only such as came to him by the free will of his fellow-citizens.

The people of the United States, accepting his candidacy from this our great state and city, and knowing his character and position, intend to make his term the ninth presidential term that has been filled by a vice president from the state of New York. [Applause.]—Evarts.

In every event of Democratic success the southern end of the Democratic party must be to the northern end as the locomotive is to the tender, as the horse is to the cart. This is as plain as any truth in gravitation or arithmetic. The south has control of all the working committees of the senate. On every committee there is a majority of Democrats, and of these a majority in all cases consists of southern senators. The same conditions prevail in the house. There are forty-two committees. The chairmen of twenty-two are from the south. All the committees are so constituted that the majority is Democratic, and of the majority more than half are southern.—Sen. Conkling.

A very eminent public thinker and writer and a very powerful one, who seldom speaks within bounds, has frightened the people of the country that espouse the Republican candidacy, by saying that our candidate—God bless him—Gen. Garfield [great applause]—(this is the most crushing criticism of him) is no better than his party, We thought so. We thought the party was as good as could be, and that it could find in its ranks and in its lead many men that were worthy of its honors and its votes, but we really must be excused from thinking that we could find any one man that was better than the great Republican party.[Applause.]—Evarts.

I have heard ingenious Democrats arguing that it was their party that put down the rebellion. I wondered if they thought any amount of sophistry could obliterate the fact that the dominant faction of their party is composed of the very rebels who had to be put down; [Laughter.] and the further fact, they need to remember, that it was the Government of the United States that put down the rebellion, and that during the whole existence of the rebellion, the Government of the United States was wholy in the control of Republicans, and the Democratic party of the North opposed to its utmost, nine out of every ten measures adopted for the supression of the rebellion.—Carl Shurz.

In a political address last week George W. Curtis pointedly said:

So long as a southern majority encounters a Republican executive it will not show its hand; but when it has secured congress and the executive, the government of the country will then have passed from those who were true to the Union, the constitution and progressive reform, to a party opposed to the Union, and whose leaders have drawn swords against it. I don't say that Wade Hampton and Ben Hill are plotting secession or any other infamous design. That is not the question. But when a man who comes out of the penitentiary, for instance, is proposed for a responsible office, and is penitent, and there is another man proposed who never saw the inside of a penitentiary, shall I be accused of oppressing the ex-convict in voting for the honest man? Because we do not hate the south shall we put the government into its hands?

Three young men in New York, about to cast their first vote, gave each of them a reason for deciding to vote for Garfield and Arthur One, a young broker, said he was "opposed to a change because all values would fluctuate and business would be uncertain." Another, engaged as a working manufacturer, said he "was for the party that had always done the most for labor, made it honorable by destroying slavery, and was endeavoring to make it more remunerative by protecting its interests." The third, just beginning his career as a journalist, said he "would not cast his first presidential vote for a party that had been wrong and beaten in every election during the twenty-four years he had lived at least." These are good reasons pithily stated. There are at least an additional million of votes to be cast this year. Every young man should consider whether he will become a political fossil at the beginning of his political career, or whether he will ally himself with liberal ideas and a progressive policy.

Some service with him in congress has made me well acquainted with Gen. Garfield. That he has intelligence, and habits of mind which fit him for the presidential office I think I know. Without early advantages he, years ago, achieved prominence among leading men in public life, and that prominence he has maintained ever since in all collisions between individuals and parties. That he is competent to discharge the duties before him there seems to me no reason to doubt. Of Gen. Arthur it seems needless here to speak. Most of you know him, and all who know him, know a high-souled, honorable man, honorable in every position in which he ever stood, a man to be trusted in every relation of life. If the character, popularity and personality of a candidate can add strength to the Republican cause, Gen. Arthur will add that strength wherever he is known, and most where he is best known.'—Sen. Conkling.

Jay A. Hubbell, chairman of the congressional committee. It was he who organized the whole southern tier of counties in Indiana, and he did it as it was never done before. The Ohio river was picketed for weeks before the election, and every man who crossed from Kentucky was watched, his footsteps dogged, and a record kept of his whereabouts. Societies were organized all along the frontier, armed and oath-bound to resist by violence, if necessary, every attempt at illegal voting. Due notice was given to the good people of Kentucky, warning them of what was in store for them if they persisted in their ancient custom of voting in Indiana, and advising each voter to bring along four friends and a stretcher to facilitate his return home to receive the rites of sepulcher. It is safe to say that this part of the work was alone sufficient to overcome the usual democratic majority in the Hoosier state.

A "SORE HEAD."—Did you ever notice the fact that young men never leave the Republican party? Never. Just look over the whole list that Democrats claim as converts year after year, and you never find young men among them. Corpses! Corpses! [laughter] going into the Democratic graveyard [renewed laughter] seeking that eternal home of the useless dead. [More merriment..] But whenever you find a man coming from the Democratic to the Republican party, he comes with full veins; he comes with a life before him: he comes with hope, chock full of day's works. [Applause.] It is this which makes the distinctive characteristic between the two parties. "Forward" is always the Republican battle-cry. "As you were," the other which rings along the Democratic line.—Storrs.

He was as good a soldier as Hancock was. [A voice, "A volunteer," and applause.] The man who makes up his mind in the time of profound peace to make war the business of his life; the man who is adopted by the government; the man who makes war a profession, is, in my judgment, no better than the man who in time of peace would rather follow the vocations of peace, and who when war comes, when the blast of conflict blows in his ears, buckles on his sword and fights for his native land, and when the war is over goes back to the avocations of peace. [Applause-] He is a trained statesman. He knows what he talks about, and he talks about it well. I have known him for years. I know him as well as I know any other man, and I tell you that he has more brains, more education, wider and more splendid views than any other man who has been nominated for the presidency by any party since I was born. [Applause.] —Robert Ingersoll.

DRAW UP YOUR PUNKIN.

It is evident that the number of excursions accompanying the visiting military is larger than our people expected, but they will all be provided for. There may be a little discomfort here and there, gauged by the expectations of those who have honored us with their presence, but we have no doubt that whatever feeling of disappointment may be engendered will be drowned in the spirit of the occasion, It is not to be forgotten that ours is a homely hospitality, but none the less hearty on that account. A stranger from the north, traveling through Georgia years ago, stopped at a small house by the roadside and asked for accommodation for the night. The response was warm and generous. The stranger alighted, and went into the cabin, while his horse was put up and fed by the host.

There were no chairs in the cabin, but he was greeted with "Draw up a punkin,' Mister, an' make yourself at home." The pumpkin may have been less comfortable than a stuffed-bottom chair, but it was free Straddled by the stranger, it had a warm and welcome place by the hearthstone of the backwoodsman, and we have no doubt the stranger made the most of it. We want to give our visitors a warm place by the hearth. Hospitality is not always best represented by comfort. What we share with our friends may not be the best, but it has merit of being the best we have.—Atlanta Daily Constitution.

SHRINKAGE IN WHEAT.

In order to ascertain the shrinkage in which wheat undergoes from evaporation, when held in the bin over winter, a very interesting experiment has been tried on the college farm. About six months ago a long sack was prepared and filled with 200 pounds of winter wheat. accurately weighed. In November 12, 1879, this was placed in a grain bin in the barn; and in order that the grain in the sack might fairly represent the average of that in the bin —the bin held about 150 bushels—the sack of wheat was sunk in the grain as far as possible—say to an average depth of about two feet. In this position it has remained six months, or until May 12, when it was brought forth and again weighed; this second weighing showed a slight increase on that of six months before, the weight being 200 pounds, plus a fraction of one pound. This result was most unexpected to us, and we can only conclude from it that, during such seasons as those of 1879-80, wheat shrinks by evaporation none at all; the shrinkage so often complained of by millers and others doubtless comes chiefly from "rattage," leaks in the granary, and other like obvious sources of waste. The slight increase in weight of this grain, is perhaps attributable to a slight variation in the scales used in weighing. It is an interesting fact, that same sack, when exposed to the rays of the sun at a temperature of 95 degrees, from 11.30 a. m. till 3. p. m., shrunk exactly one half pound.—Prof. Shelton.

Rev. P. N. Granger of St. Albans, Vt., and Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District, in a letter of recent date, says: "I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of the lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found."

M., in the office of the Register of deeds for the County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, in Liber 49 of mortgages on page 287, Charles W. Ford duly mortgaged to Watson Snyder, "All that certain piece or parcel of land situate and being in the city of Ypsilanti and the county of Washtenaw and state of Michigan, known and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the south line of Congress street, formed by the intersection of the east line of Washington street with the south line of Congress street, thence south along the east line of Washington street one hundred and thirty two feet, thence east forty-nine feet, thence north, parallel to the east line of Washington street, fifty-two feet, thence west sixteen and a half feet, thence north, parallel to the east line of Washington street, eighty feet to the South line of Congress street, thence west along the south line of Congress street to the place of beginning."

The amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is twenty-two hundred and eleven dollars, besides the attorney fee of thirty dollars therein named.

Default has occurred in a condition of said mortgage by which the power of sale therein contained has become operative, and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the debt now remaining secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof,

Notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public vendue, to the highest bidder, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, which sale will be made on the fourteenth day of December, A. D. 1880 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the South front door of the Court House in the city of Ann Arbor in said County, said Court House being the place of holding the Circuit Court within said County.

Dated, September 11th, 1880.
T. NINDE, Attorney, WATSON SNYDER, Mortgagee.

A Queer Notion.

Many people think it cheaper to buy 25 cent sizes of a proprietary medicine. But they make a mistake. For instance, Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry contains about eight times the quantity of ordinary 25 cent balsams. Becides it takes a less quantity of Wistar's Balsam to cure a cold. A single dose is often sufficient. For deep seated Colds and comsumption it has proven itself to be the best and quickest cure ever discovered. 845 1 yr.

Junior Buckeye MOWER.

Don't fail to read the following before purchasing.

Parties in want of a Lawn Mower should not fail to see the NEW BUCKEYE.

A few of its merits are

1. It is about one-third lighter than other mowers in the market.
2. Simplicity, strength, and durability.
3. Ease of working and not liable to get out of order.
4. All parts requiring strength are made of the best quality of iron and cast steel.
5. The gears are so located that it is impossible to clog them with cut grass.
6. The wheels are 7½ inches in diameter, and both drivers, so that it runs lightly and will cut turning either right or left.
7. When drawn backward the ground wheels only reverse motion, consequently is more easily handled.
8. It has three cast steel revolving cutter blades, set at such an angle with the stationary knife, as to give a perfect shear cut.
9. The cutter bar is made of cast steel tempered and is easily adjusted.
10. Has an adjustable roller running the entire width of the machine to regulate the height of cut. See directions.
11. It has adjustable handles and addapts itself to irregularities of the surface.
12. Can sharpen it yourself without going to a repair shop. See directions.
13. It is a perfect "little beauty," being compact, thoroughly made and beautifully finished. In short, it is the most perfect Lawn Mower ever placed udon the market.

Don't fail to ask for the NEW BUCKEYE.

KIDNEY-WORT

PERMANENTLY CURES KIDNEY DISEASES, LIVER COMPLAINTS, Constipation and Piles.

DR. R. H. CLARK, South Hero, Vt., says, "In cases of KIDNEY TROUBLES it has acted like a charm. It has cured many very bad cases of PILES, and has never failed to act efficiently."

NELSON FAIRCHILD, of St. Albans, Vt., says, "It is of priceless value. After sixteen years of great suffering from Piles and Costiveness it completely cured me."

C. S. HOGABON, of Berkshire, says, "one package has done wonders for me in completely curing a severe Liver and Kidney Complaint."

IT HAS WONDERFUL POWER. WHY?

BECAUSE IT ACTS ON THE LIVER, THE BOWELS AND KIDNEYS AT THE SAME TIME.

Because it cleanses the system of the poisonous humors that develope in Kidney and Urinary diseases, Biliousness, Jaundice, Constipation, Piles, or in Rheumatism Neuralgia and Female disorders.

KIDNEY-WORT is a dry vegetable compound and can be sent by mail prepaid.

One package will make six qts of medicine.

Liquid KIDNEY-WORT

In response to the urgent requests of great numbers of people who prefer to purchase a Kidney-Wort already prepared, the proprietors of this celebrated remedy now prepare it in liquid form as well as dry. It is very concentrated, is put up in large bottles, and is equally efficient as that put up dry in tin cans. It saves the necessity of preparing, is always ready, and is more easily taken by most people. Price, $1 per bottle.

A

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL.

In diseases of the pulmonary organs a safe and reliable remedy is invaluable. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, of such power as to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cures, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures, or syrups, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective treatment; and it is dangerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is a standard medical preparation, of known and acknowledged curative power, and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proven its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.
